DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 11/22/04 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there would be no serious burden on the examiner to search the entire claimed inventions. This is not found persuasive because as shown in the prior action, the examiner has demonstrated sufficient burdens to search the entire claimed inventions.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Double Patenting

Claims 1-10 of this application conflict with claims 1-10 of Application No. 09/654,182. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See

In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 16-83 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10, 16-49 of copending Application No. 09/654,182. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the instant application when read in light of the specification clearly encompass and are rendered obvious over the prior application.

The instant claims do not recite that the separation device is chromatography. The reference does teach that use of the particle in chromatography. The invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the claims of the prior application with the teachings contained in the claims, because the instant claims recite chromatography as one of the separation device.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-10, 16-83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boes et al. (Boes), U.S. Patent 5,807,494 in view of the Betz et al. (Betz), U.S. Patent 5,653,875.

The Boes patent discloses the formation of gel compositions having carbon with an organic group attached to the carbon (see Abstract). The groups are similar to those claimed (see columns 4-5).

The reference is silent on the use of the adsorbents in chromatography. The Betz patent is cited to teach the use of such carbon containing adsorbents in chromatography (see columns 11, 12 and 16).

Consequently, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Boes patent with the teachings of the Betz patent, because the Betz patent teaches that carbon compounds can be used in chromatography.
